Wofford to celebrate Homecoming October 24 - 26 By Daniel Brasington '25

During the weekend, the college's Alumni Association will recognize six graduates for leadership, service and professional achievement. The Alumni Service Awards will be presented from 10 - 11 a.m., Saturday, October 26, at the Pavilion (beside Wightman Hall).

In addition to the popular history Sip and Stroll, All-Alumni Band Party, and football game and tailgate, new events this year include an Alumni Book Signing and Alumni Art Exhibition. Reunions will be held for classes ending in '4 or '9, as well as a reunion for Orientation staff alumni.

To register for an event or learn more about the Homecoming schedule, visit Wofford.edu/homecoming.

BMW Group donates $1 million to American Red Cross for disaster relief in aftermath of Hurricane Helene Spartanburg - The BMW Group in the U.S. has pledged a donation of $1 million to the American Red Cross Disaster Relief Fund to support in the recovery efforts after the devastation caused by Hurricane Helene. Catastrophic winds and rain hit the southeast, including the Carolinas, causing widespread damage and historic flooding. Roads were destroyed by the floods, and landslides left entire communities completely isolated from outside aid for days. The American Red Cross and thousands of volunteers are working tirelessly to care for people impacted by this disaster.

"This donation will help the Red Cross give assistance to many in the Carolinas who are in need, including some of our own associates," said Dr. Robert Engelhorn, president and CEO of BMW Manufacturing. "Thousands of our BMW family lost power, many had their homes damaged by falling trees, and some had their homes swept away by floods. We offer our thanks and support to the Red Cross and many volunteers who are working so hard on the recovery effort."

BMW Manufacturing is located in Spartanburg County, South Carolina, where it employs more than 11,000 people and supports thousands of additional jobs through its supplier network, which includes the Carolinas and Georgia.

TD Bank announces $500,000 in contributions to aid Hurricane Helene relief and recovery

TD recently announced $500,000 in contributions to support local relief efforts in parts of Florida, North Carolina and South Carolina following Hurricane Helene. Donations will be distributed to a few local non-profits leading recovery efforts across the three states.

TD will give $300,000 to non-profit organizations in North Carolina, $100,000 in South Carolina and $100,000 in Florida. TD colleagues may also donate voluntary amounts to select local non-profits in the three states through the bank's employee giving portal, which the bank will match dollar-for-dollar up to $50,000 total.

"TD is unequivocally committed to helping our customers, colleagues and community members in this difficult time," said Chris Ward, Regional President of the Mid-South Metro, TD Bank. "The devastation in the central and western parts of North and South Carolina is unprecedented in the region, and we extend our support during the long road to recovery."

Byrnes Rebel Regiment wins Bands of America Carolina Regional

For the first time in 25 years, the James F. Byrnes High School Rebel Regiment marching band can call themselves the "Grand Champion" of a Bands of America Regional competition. The Rebel Regiment marched away from the Carolina Regional Saturday, October 12, with the top trophy in hand, along with a first place award in "General Effect." The last time the Rebel Regiment was crowned champion of a Bands of America Regional event was in 1999.

The win also marks the first time since 2004 that the Rebel Regiment has beaten friendly in-state rival, Wando High School.

The Bands of America Carolina Regional competition featured some of the top high school marching bands from across the Southeast.

Spartanburg Water submits inventory findings for Lead and Copper Rule revision requirement

In late 2021, the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) released a revised version of its Lead and Copper Rule (LCRR) that requires all drinking water utilities to perform an inventory of the service lines in their distribution area to determine the number of lead lines and submit the data by October 16, 2024.

Spartanburg Water has successfully completed an inventory of their service lines using a sampling statistics model that determined a comprehensive sample size that was representative of the total population.

Following the completion of the sampling process, no lead service lines or lines deemed to be made with "unknown" materials were found. Additionally, Spartanburg Water performs tri-annual tests for lead throughout their service area and consistently has not found any positive results.

The data is available to the public through the Spartanburg Water website (www.spartanburgwater.org).

What started as a joke to be the first person to have a poem in "Sky Mall Magazine," has turned into the first published book in Eric Kocher's catalog.

Kocher, assistant professor of environmental studies at Wofford College, has been incorporating creative writing into his Wofford courses since 2013. His new release, "Sky Mall," is a meditation on parenthood and togetherness that explores themes of capitalism, love and our relationship to the world around us.

"So much of my job is asking students to recognize environmental issues in their own lives, which is challenging when we are talking about something big like climate change or global warming," says Kocher. "Some of the poems in this collection explore how we can train our attention to see these global issues in our tiny, everyday lives."

Kocher's teaching and writing intersect through his focus on environmental awareness. His students explore how things like literature have profoundly shaped environmental thinking, both culturally and politically.

"I feel very lucky to work at an institution that recognizes the value of my creative endeavors," he says. "And talking through the ideas I explore in the book with students and colleagues has helped me see them far more clearly than I could have imagined."

Kocher's book recently won the 2024 Rattle Chapbook Prize. His poems have previously

Smartpress selects Spartanburg County for first S.C. operation

Columbia - Smartpress, a commercial online printing company, recently announced it selects Spartanburg County to establish the company's first South Carolina operation. The $9.6 million investment will create 150 new jobs.

Smartpress will lease the 94,000-square-foot print production facility located at 1061 Duncan Reidville

Road in Duncan, allowing the company to better serve East Coast customers.

"Our decision to expand Smartpress into South Carolina was driven by the region's dynamic population growth and a talented workforce eager for opportunity. We are proud to bring our 100% employeeowned company to Spartanburg County, knowing the local community will play a key role in our continued success and innovation in print production," stated Smartpress Vice President Matt Chapman.

In addition, eligible TD employees impacted by Helene have access to a range of resources, including the opportunity to obtain small grants from the bank to help with costs such as insurance deductibles and certain personal, family, funeral or living expenses.

"Floridians are incredibly resilient but we know the recovery process from Hurricane Helene will take weeks and even months," said Nick Miceli, Regional President of Florida, TD Bank. "Our thoughts are with our neighbors and TD is here to help."

The bank's community support also includes offering financial assistance through TD Cares to customers who were directly impacted by the storm. TD Cares is a relief program that includes fee refunds and other support for eligible consumer and business customers.

Duke Energy names Tim Pearson as new state president for South Carolina

_ Greenville Duke Energy recently announced that Tim Pearson will become South Carolina state president, effective November 1. He will succeed Mike Callahan, who has been promoted to senior vice president and treasurer of the company following the retirement of Karl Newlin.

Pearson, 42, will manage state and local regulatory and government relations in South Carolina. He will with our stakeholders and policy makers to deliver on the state's needs as we work to build a smarter energy future for the Palmetto State."

Pearson, who was a valuable part of the Duke Energy team first as an advisor and consultant, joined the company full time as vice president of government affairs in 2023. In that expanded role, Pearson has been integral in advancing the and shareholder services organizations. He also served as director of regulated utilities forecasting for Duke Energy, where he was responsible for preparing and consolidating regulated utility forecasts to support financial planning and strategic decisionmaking activities. Callahan joined Duke Energy in 2002.

"I am proud of the many accomplishments Mike and his team have achieved in South Caropast five years, Tiger has played a critical role in the lobbying company's efforts at the State House and has advanced the legislative and regulatory interests of Duke Energy before various South Carolina governmental bodies. Also reporting to Pearson will be Heather Shirley Smith, vice president of regulatory and policy who will continue to focus on regulatory matters and policy enactment and Rick Jiran, vice president of government and community relations and infrastructure engagement, who will continue his role focused on local government relations, community relations and new infrastructure stakeholder engagement.

Duke Energy (NYSE: DUK), a Fortune 150 company headquartered in Charlotte, N.C., is one of America's largest energy holding companies. The company's electric utilities serve 8.4 million customers in North Carolina, South Carolina, Florida, Indiana. Ohio and Kentucky, and collectively own 54,800 megawatts of energy capacity. Its natural gas utilities serve 1.7 million customers in North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Ohio and Kentucky.

conversation around energy policy that is taking place in South Carolina.

A resident of Columbia, Pearson lives with his wife Ashton, daughter Myers and son Wills. He has more than a decade of experience in government and policy in South Carolina. Before joining Duke Energy, Pearson served as an advisor to multiple governors in the state, most recently as general consultant for Henry McMaster's successful campaigns in 2018 and 2022. He served as chief of staff for Nikki Haley during her tenure as governor, and as executive director of her transition team. He also served as Mark Sanford's senior communications advisor.

Callahan, 49, will return to the financial side of the corporation after leading the company's efforts in South Carolina for the past five years as state president. Prior to that, he was vice president of investor relations, overseeing Duke Energy's investor relations lina," said Julie Janson, executive vice president and CEO for Duke Energy Carolinas. "Over the past five years, he spearheaded Duke Energy's efforts to support communities and customers during the pandemic. He also guided critical grassroots community relations initiatives and helped lead company engagement with numerous state and local organizations during storm restoration efforts, including most recently when Helene battered the state."

Tigerron "Tiger" Wells, 45, currently state government affairs director, will succeed Pearson as vice president of government affairs and will manage the legislative company's strategy in South Carolina. TERMS OF SALE: For Cash. The purchaser to pay for papers, deed, transfer taxes, fees and stamps. The successful bidder or bidders, other than the Plaintiff therein, shall deposit with the Master in Equity for Spartanburg County a certified check or cash in the amount equal to five per cent (5%) of the bid on said premises at the sale as evidence of good faith in bidding which deposit shall be required immediately upon the acceptance of the bid. If the required deposit is not posted by the high bidder as required, the property may be sold to the next highest bidder subject to the deposit requirements set forth herein. Subject to any resale of said premises under Order of this Court and in the event the said purchaser or purchasers fail to comply with the terms of sale within twenty (20) days, the Master in Equity shall forthwith resell the said property, after due notice and advertisement, and shall continue to sell the same each subsequent sales day until a purchaser who shall comply with the terms of sale shall be obtained, such sales to be made at the risk of the former purchaser. No personal or deficiency judgment being demanded, the bidding will not remain open after the date of sale, but compliance with the bid must be made immediately. The successful bidder may be required to pay interest on the amount of the bid from the date of sale to the date of compliance with the bid at the note rate of 0% per annum. The sale shall be subject to prior taxes and assessments, to easements, restrictions and rights-of-way of record, and to any other senior or superior liens or encumbrances. Should the Plaintiff, Plaintiff's attorney or agent fail to appear on the sales day, the property shall not be sold but shall be re-advertised and sold at some convenient sales day Dated: October 3, 2024 TALLEY LAW FIRM, P.A. TERMS OF SALE: FOR CASH. The Master in Equity will require a deposit of 5% of the bid amount in cash or certified funds, which is to be applied on the purchase price upon compliance with the bid. Interest on the balance of the bid at 7.75% shall be paid to the day of compliance. In case of noncompliance within 20 days, after the sale, the deposit of 5% is to be forfeited and applied to Plaintiff's judgment debt and the property re-advertised for sale upon the same terms at the risk of the former highest bidder. Purchaser to pay for deed recording fees and deed stamps. Deficiency judgment not being demanded, the bidding will not remain open after the date of sale, but compliance with the bid may be made immediately.

Should Plaintiff, Plaintiff's attorney, or Plaintiff's agent fail to appear on the day of sale, the property shall not be sold but shall be re-advertised and sold at some convenient sales day thereafter when Plaintiff, Plaintiff's attorney, or Plaintiff's agent, is present.

The sale shall be subject to taxes and assessments, existing easements and easements and restrictions of record.

Any sale pursuant to this order is without warranty of any kind. Neither Plaintiff nor Court warrant title to any third-party purchaser. All third-party purchasers are made parties to this action and are deemed to have notice of all matters disclosed by the public record, including the status of title. See Ex parte Keller, 185 S.C. 283, 194 S.E. 15 (1937); Wells Fargo Bank, NA v. Turner, 378 S.C. 147, 662 S.E.2d 424 (Ct. App. 2008). FINKEL LAW FIRM, P.A.

forfeited and applied first to costs and then to Plaintiff's debt in the case of noncompliance. Should the last and highest bidder fail or refuse to make the required deposit at the time of the bid or comply with the other terms of the bid within twenty (20) days, then the Master in Equity or her agent may resell the property on the same terms and conditions on some subsequent sales day at the risk of the said highest bidder.

The sale shall be subject to Spartanburg County taxes and assessments and to existing easements and restrictions of record.

The sale of the Subject Property through this foreclosure action will be made subject to the Central Carolina Mortgage, the SunTrust Mortgage, and Defendant Wilkins's homestead exemption right, presuming that the Defendant Wilkins resides in the Subject Property.

Purchaser to pay for the preparation of the Deed, documentary stamps on the Deed, recording of the Deed, and interest on the balance of the bid from date of sale to date of compliance with the bid at the judgment rate of interest of 7.25% per annum.

Attention is drawn to the Court Order on file with the Clerk of Court for Spartanburg County. The terms and conditions of the actual Court Order, to the extent of any inconsistencies, control over any terms or conditions contained in the Notice of Sale.

As this is a judicial lien foreclosure action, the bidding will not remain open and the sale will close on the day of the sale. Any proceeds realized from the sale of the property will be used and applied to reduce the amount of the judgments.

If Plaintiff or its representative does not appear at the scheduled sale of the abovedescribed property, then the sale of the property will be null, void and of no force and effect. In such event, the sale will be rescheduled for the next available sales day. MASTER'S SALE 2024-CP-42-01214 BY VIRTUE of a decree hereto-

for Plaintiff. Should the last and highest bidder fail or refuse to comply with the balance due of the bid within 30 days, then the Master in Equity may re-sell the property on the same terms and conditions on some subsequent Sales Day (at the risk of the said highest bidder).

No personal or deficiency judgment being demanded, the bidding will not remain open after the date of sale, but compliance with the bid may be made immediately.

Purchaser to pay for documentary stamps on Master in Equity's Deed. The successful bidder will be required to pay interest on the balance of the bid from the date of sale to date of compliance with the bid at the rate of 4.375% per annum.

The Plaintiff may waive any of its rights, including its right to a deficiency judgment, prior to sale.

The sale shall be subject to taxes and assessments, existing easements and restrictions of record.

This sale is subject to all title matters of record and any interested party should consider performing an independent title examination of the subject property as no warranty is given.

The sale will not be held unless either Plaintiff's attorney or Plaintiff's bidding agent is present at the sale and either Plaintiff's attorney or Plaintiff's bidding agent enters the authorized bid of Plaintiff for this captioned matter. In the alternative, Plaintiff's counsel, if permitted by the Court, may advise this Court directly of its authorized bidding instructions. In the event a sale is inadvertently held without Plaintiff's Counsel or Counsel's bidding agent entering the authorized bid of Plaintiff for this specifically captioned matter, the sale shall be null and void and the property shall be re-advertised for sale on the next available sale date.

Neither the Plaintiff nor its counsel make representations as to the integrity of the title or the fair market value of the property offered for sale. Prior to bidding you may wish to review the current state law or seek the advice of any attorney licensed in South Carolina. SCOTT AN CORLEY, P.A. Attorney for Plaintiff HON. SHANNON M. For healthy aging, avoid these common obstacles to good nutrition (StatePoint) Proper nutrition is critical to older adults' overall vitality, providing energy, helping to control weight, and even preventing and managing some diseases.

Unfortunately, 10% of older people don't eat enough, while one-third eat too much, according to HealthinAging.org, which is the Health in Aging Foundation's online public education resource. Such nutritional imbalances may be due to the range of common obstacles some people face as they age, including changing tastes, dental problems and difficulty accessing healthy foods.

"Charles," a Cigna Healthcare Medicare Advantage (MA) customer, had several health issues when he was introduced to a nutrition program available through his MA plan. Through the program, he worked with a registered dietitian, started working out, and lost nearly 50 pounds. These changes fueled him to tackle additional health goals, including getting mental health support and assistance improving his sleep.

MA plans, like those offered by Cigna Healthcare, include "extra benefits" not available through Original Medicare. The Cigna Healthcare MA nutrition program is one of those extras, and it primarily supports older adults with a body mass index below 22 or above 40, those with chronic diseases like diabetes and kidney disease, and those with low fruit and vegetable intake. Through the program, registered dietitians provide customers with dietary advice that can help them improve their health.

"We offer information, education and resources that are different for everybody and not restrictive," explained Robin Neal, RD, one of the program's dietitians. "The goal is to provide skills and tools so individuals can self-manage their diet after the program ends."

Neal said results often include weight loss and improved blood sugar readings, such as those Charles experienced.

Of course, program advice varies by individual and their unique nutritional needs, but some tips everyone can benefit from include the following:

Get your nutrients. According to the National Council on Aging, older adults should eat a variety of foods to get all the nutrients they need, including lean protein for muscle mass, as well as fruits and vegetables, whole grains and low-fat dairy. Choose foods with little to no added sugar, saturated fats and sodium. For an example of what a healthy plate looks like, visit myplate.gov.

Stay hydrated. Drink water often to aid digestion. Limit beverages with lots of added sugars or salt.

Visit the dentist. If you're having trouble chewing, visit your dentist. They may be able to help. For instance, if you have ill-fitting dentures, chewing can be improved and more comfortable with a better fit. Additionally, choosing softer foods, such as canned fruit, soups or tuna, may help. Dental visits are a covered benefit in many Medicare Advantage plans.

Follow food safety guidelines. Food not prepared properly can make you sick. Because those with weakened immune systems are vulnerable to foodborne illnesses, it's especially important for older adults to follow food safety guidelines. If you have any doubt about a food's safety, throw it out. Limit salt. Too much sodium can increase the risk of high blood pressure, heart attack and stroke. To stay heart healthy, ask your doctor

for guidance on recommended daily sodium limits based on your health status and check food labels for sodium content. Cook more meals at home using lower sodium ingredients and avoid processed foods. Flavor dishes with herbs and spices.

Seek assistance if needed. Take advantage of MA plan benefits that can help you secure healthy foods, like transportation or grocery cards. Additionally, there are local and national programs to help those on limited incomes with nutritious food costs, including the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP). To learn about assistance available in your area, visit cignacommunity.findhelp.com.

To find MA plans offered in your area, visit Medicare.gov. For information on Cigna Healthcare plans, visit Cigna MedicareInformation.com.

"By devoting your time and attention to eating well, you'll not only be able to maintain a healthy body weight, but you can also reduce your risk of chronic disease and maintain your overall vitality as you age," said Neal. "And, of course, if you have any questions about your health, you should always talk to your doctor.

Presidential historian Updegrove to speak in Greenville on November 7

By Clinton Colmenares, Senior Director of News and Media Strategy at Furman University

On November 7, two days after the presidential election, one of the country's foremost presidential historians will present "Lessons in Character and Leadership from Seven Forum and Furman University.

Updegrove's speech will draw on meetings and exclusive interviews with seven U.S. presidents to examine lessons in character and leadership: Gerald R. Ford (doing right), Jimmy Carter (doing good), Ronald Reagan (optimism), George H.W. Bush (humility), Bill Clinton (resilience), George W. Bush (compassion) and Barack Obama (grace). Updegrove looks at how each man, overcoming inherent flaws in his nature and setbacks in his administration, drew on the best aspects of his character to contribute to our country - and ultimately to his legacy. The presentation includes photographs and short clips from interviews.

and to purchase tickets ($50), visit www.furman.edu/ ahbc, call 864-294-3351 or email ahbc@furman.edu. Proceeds from ticket sales support the work of two area teachers and a local student through the A.V. and Kate Huff History Scholars awards.

This year's A.V. and Huff Kate History Scholars student and teacher award winners, whose prizes are supported through proceeds from ticket sales, will also be recognized at the event. The awards are named for A.V. Huff, a former Furman professor, dean and vice president for academic affairs, and his wife Kate Huff, a former elementary school teacher.

Hartsville, South Carolina. A history major minoring in Medieval and early modern studies, Harris will continue her work on an exhibit and book for Furman's bicentennial celebration with Courtney Tollison, Distinguished University Public Historian and Scholar at Furman. After graduation, Harris completed Furman's certification program for elementary education. He will use the grant to partially fund a visit to the Cowpens National Battlefield Park in Cowpens, South Carolina. Students will tour the Cowpens museum, view educational films about the Southern Campaign of the American Revolution and will include a mural, a "family tree" painting and school-wide international night.

Updegrove's books include "Baptism by Fire: Eight Presidents Who Took Office in Times of Crisis"; "The Last Republicans: Inside the Extraordinary Relationship Between George H. W. Bush and George W. Bush"; and "Incomparable Grace: JFK in the Presidency." He is working on a book about lessons in leadership, the topic of his American History Book Club talk. In 2014, while Updegrove was president of the LBJ Presidential Library, he hosted the Civil Rights Summit with Presidents Barack Obama, George W. Bush, Bill Clinton, George H. W. Bush and Jimmy Carter.

The winner of the A.V. Huff History Scholars Award is Furman student Emily Anne Harris '25, of plans to pursue a graduate degree in historic preservation.

The Kate Huff History Scholars award will go to area teachers to support class history projects or field trips. This year's recipients are David Bernardy of Greenville, South Carolina, and Ashley Blackwelder '03 M'05 of Spartanburg, South Carolina.

An elementary teacher at Sterling School in Greenville, Bernardy recently walk on a ranger-led trail detailing the important turning points of the battle.

Blackwelder, the STEAM (science, technology, engineering, art and math) coordinator for grades K-5 at Fairforest Elementary in Spartanburg, holds a bachelor's degree in elementary education and a master's degree in literacy from Furman. Blackwelder will use the grant to fund a year-long "Fairforest Family Tree" project that

Milliken's 'Meet the Makers' series highlights contributions of manufacturing associates

Milliken & Company, a global leader in diversified manufacturing, recently launched the "Meet the Makers" spotlight series, featuring the remarkable people whose dedication enhances the company's commitment to innovation, quality, and performance. Through profiles of associates from various plant locations, the series sheds light on manufacturing at Milliken through the individual perspectives of those who help make a world of difference every day. "As we continue to pursue excellence in manufacturing, it's important to recognize the people who make it all happen," said Michael Brown, executive vice president of operations at Milliken & Company. "Our manufacturing associates are among the true heroes behind our operational success. Their efforts allow us to safely, efficiently, and reliably deliver high-quality products that meet the changing needs of our customers around the world."

The series profiles Milliken's manufacturing associates, showcasing their personal journeys, professional achievements, and the vital roles they play within the company. Highlights include:

• Brad Keller, a plant supply chain manager, who reflects on his professional development journey with Milliken and the personal connection that fuels his dedication to ensuring the quality and safety of the products he manufactures. "I've got a lot of friends that are firemen, and those guys are coming to help us," Keller says. "If we can do stuff to keep them safe, that just helps the whole community and the whole country."

• Kayce Parker, a human resource specialist, who embraces her multi-faceted role while also organizing events that foster a sense of community and appreciation among associates. "My favorite part of the job is helping the associates and being the forefront for them," Parker says. "It's satisfying to know I can help an associate in whatever they need." • Rodney Fannin, an engineering services team member celebrating 50 years of service with Milliken this year, who emphasizes the importance of safety, and shares how personally meaningful it is to mentor and train new associates. "It's special to see someone take to what you're instructing them in and excel," Fannin says. "Seeing them go on to higher positions makes me proud."
